

THE MAYAS

The MAYAS like to dress with colourful clothing made from animal skins. They wore big hats. The Mayas didn't have tools made with metal but with stone and didn't have big engines to help them but work with their hands.

stone.

Mayas' home was a hut made of mud and Mayas were farmers. They ate very well. They hunted wild turkey, deer, ducks and monkey. Also they caught fish. They ate bird eggs and grew sweets potatoes, chilies and corn. Corn was called maize which is the most important of all foods, because from those they made corn flour and tortillas and other kinds of bread.

Mayas liked ball games and dances. Many of their dances are still alive.

The Maya used a written language. The people were very good at art, building, and mathematics. Their priests studied the planets and the stars which helped them make calendars.